Choral Society Is Ready For Winter Concert

Ciro de Ritis Soloist Next Friday Night

The stage is all set for the Narberth Choral Society concert next Friday evening, February 2nd, at the High School Auditorium, when the people of Narberth will be served with a musical treat which will far surpass anything which has previously been attempted in this line in the Borough.

In addition to the Philadelphia Orchestra ensemble which will accompany the chorus, Ciro de Ritis, the Italian operatic baritone, will sing the "Dio Possente" from "Faust" with the Choral Fantasy from the opera which the Choral will render as their final number. Mr. De Ritis has appeared with the Society before, at the Bryn Mawr concert last June, when he was greatly enjoyed by his audience and needs no introduction to Narberth.

The complete program of the concert follows:

Overture—"The Queen's Secret," Thomas
Chorus—a. "A Song of the Sea," Stebbins
b. "Night Song," Reinberger
c. "The Miller's Wooing," Fanning
Intermezzo—"Rendez-vous," Aletter
Baritone—"Di Provenza il Marie il suol," Verdi
(From "La Traviata")
Ciro de Ritis
Chorus—a. "London Town," German
b. "With You, Dear," Scott
c. "Smilin' Through," Fanning
d. "Moonlight," Fanning
Orchestra—"American Fantasia," Gems of Stephen Foster
Chorus—"Choral Fantasy from 'Faust,'" Gounod
With Orchestra Accompaniment.
The "Dio Possente" will be sung in Italian by Ciro de Ritis.

The final number is the most interesting and effective piece the Choral has attempted in any of its programs. It covers the best known and most popular choruses from this most popular opera. The story is familiar to almost everyone, and will be but briefly sketched here. The libretto by Barber and Carré does not attempt to follow the Goethe drama, but merely makes use of the Faust-Marguerite incident.

Faust, the aged German philosopher, after a life of meditation, becomes disgusted with the smallness of human knowledge and his own inability to unravel the mysteries of Nature. He summons to his aid the Spirit of Evil, who appears to him under the form of Mephistopheles. Through the supernatural power of the latter, Faust is restored to youth and endowed with personal beauty and luxurious garb. Mephistopheles, in a vision, reveals to him the village maid Margaret, with whom he falls in love. Margaret, noted for her loveliness, has been left by her soldier brother, Valentine, under the care of Dame Martha, a worthy but not very vigilant personage. The maiden at first rejects the stranger's advances, but Faust, aided by the influence of Mephistopheles, urges his suit, and Margaret's resistance is at length overcome. Valentine, on returning from the wars, learns what has occurred; he challenges his sister's betrayer, but, through the intervention of Mephistopheles, he is killed in the duel. Margaret, horror-stricken at the calamity of which she is the cause, gives way to despair. Her reason becomes affected, and in a frenzy she kills her infant. She is thrown into prison, and Faust, aided by Mephistopheles, obtains access to the cell in which she is confined. They both eagerly urge her to fly, but Margaret, in whom holier feelings have obtained the ascendant, spurns their proffered aid, and expires repentant. Mephistopheles is triumphant at the apparent success of his schemes to destroy a human soul, but a chorus of heavenly voices is heard proclaiming that there is pardon for the repentant sinner, and the Evil One, foiled and overcome, crouches in terror as the spirit of Margaret is borne to heaven by ministering angels.

Tickets for associate and sustaining members will be mailed by the Society early in the week and all those who subscribed last year are again urged to communicate with the officers of the organization or the membership committee in order that there may be no delay in the receipt of their tickets. Admission tickets will be on sale at the door. Price, one dollar.

Expert Says Salads Make For Health

Miss Godfrey of Drexel Addresses Women's Club

A salad for every meal might be the best way to describe the cooking and demonstration at last Tuesday's meeting of the Women's Community Club. Miss Godfrey, Professor of Home Economics at Drexel Institute, began her talk with the proper foods for children. The value of eggs and milk and fresh fruits for adults as well as children was an important point of her talk to remember. She said that the amount of milk per day for a child should be one quart and for an adult one pint. She spoke of the preparation and cooking of green vegetables and of the need of sunlight to health.

Mrs. Burdett, instructor at the Institute, prepared several salads that made the mouth water, and sliced and pared her oranges and used her pastry bag, in an amazing way.

The rest of the afternoon was taken up with reports of Club activities. The membership chairman reported two new members. Mrs. Wm. Livingston spoke of the demands for sick room comforts and for women to help out in the sick room when no nurse could be procured. Mrs. Robert F. Wood gave a detailed report of the Library. This month marks the second anniversary of the birth of the Community Library. "From 18 books," said Mrs. Wood, "we have grown to 1,300, and from the original expenditure of $30, the amount spent has reached $700." More free books go on the shelves each week, and from now on, instead of marking the free books, the newest books only will be marked "rental." Mrs. Wood said that she now feels that it may truly be called a Public Library.

The chairman of Education, Mrs. E. C. Batchelor, will guide a trip through the University of Pennsylvania and the University Museum on Thursday, February 1. If you can go, phone Mrs. Batchelor for information.

The Current Events Class meets next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. Wayne Army, 143 Merion Ave.

The Dramatic Reading Class meets next Wednesday at 2 P. M., at the home of Mrs. J. F. Donnelly.

Hear ye! All Community Club members! Have you done your bit for the Building Fund this year? Here is your chance to help, for on the afternoon of Tuesday, February 13th, there will be a Bridge and 500 Party held at the Y. M. C. A. Mark this date on your calendar now! Tickets will be ready, Tuesday Jan. 30th. The party is in charge of the following committee: Mrs. H. F. Stevens, Mrs. James B. Smith, Mrs. John W. Joyce, Mrs. George W. Orth, Mrs. S. E. Jeffers, Mrs. Charles McKee, Mrs. F. O. Peacock, Mrs. George Gilpin, Jr., Mrs. Charles F. Haist and Mrs. Harold C. Fenno.

NARBERTH H. S. LOSSES TO JENKINTOWN.

Narberth High School lost a close and exciting basketball game to Jenkintown H. S. by the score of 19 to 18. Narberth's defeat was due to their failure to shoot foul chances. E. Gillilan, Narberth's foul shooter, was sent from the game early because of the personal foul rule. Bob Gillilan, Narberth's foul scoring forward, was out of the game with an injured ankle.

Line-up:
Narberth H. S. Jenkintown H. S.
Yocum.....Forward.....Creamer
Heard.....Forward.....Potts
Heckle (Capt.)...Center (Capt.)...Turner
Savill.....Guard.....Ulrich
E. Gillilan.....Guard.....Dodge
Field goals—Narberth: Yocum, 3; Heard, 1; Heckle, 2; Savill, 1. Jenkintown: Creamer, 1; Potts, 1; Turner, 1; Ulrich, 1. Foul goals—E. Gillilan, 1 out of 4; Heckle, 2 out of 12; Savill, 1 out of 2; Turner, 6 out of 14; Potts, 5 out of 7. Substitutions—Herron for E. Gillilan, Foote for Yocum, Belfield for Turner. Referee—Powell. Timekeeper—McAuliffe.

EVENING CARD PARTY

The ladies of the Narberth Tennis Club Auxiliary are planning a card party for the evening of Friday, Feb. 9, 1923, in Y. M. C. A. Hall. There will be prizes a plenty for both bridge and five hundred. Following cards there will be refreshments. Look for the detailed announcement in next week's "Our Town."

The FIRESIDE

Mr. Ciro de Ritis, who will sing with the Choral Society next Friday evening, was one of the leading baritones with La Scala Opera Company, of Milan, Italy.

Mrs. Jacobs and Miss Maude Jacobs are the guests of Mrs. H. A. Jacobs, of Elmwood avenue. Mrs. Jacobs, Sr., has recently recovered from a severe illness.

Mrs. Robert Toure, of Narberth avenue, entertained her sister, Miss Yvonne McClure, of Bala, over the week-end.

Mrs. S. E. Cox, of Merion avenue, had as her guest last week Miss Marjorie Plantholt, of Lancaster.

Mrs. Charles Jacobs, of New York City, was the week-end guest of Mrs. H. A. Jacobs, of Elmwood avenue.

Mr. Gilbert H. Ford has become associated with the Doran Motor Company, Ardmore, Pa., in the marketing of Durant and Star cars, and is in position to render this service to any of his friends in Narberth and on the Main Line.

Mrs. H. H. Cafferty, of Woodside avenue, entertained at cards last Friday evening in honor of her house guest, Miss Peggy Roggenmoser, of Washington, D. C., and Miss Maye Coan, of New York City. Miss Roggenmoser returned to Washington on Monday, after having spent several days with Mrs. Cafferty.

Preparations for the Junior Community Club play are progressing in good shape in spite of considerable illness among the stars. Rehearsals are being held weekly and indications are that this will absolutely Mr. Gallagher, positively Mr. Shean, be the best of its kind presented to a Narberth audience.

Mr. John Louis Jenkins, of 103 Dudley avenue, is spending the winter in Virginia.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Narberth Tennis Association will be held at the home of Mrs. W. R. D. Hall, 226 Dudley avenue, on Friday, February 2, 1923, at 2:30 P. M. Final discussion of card party plans and by-law changes, as well as other important matters. Members urged to come promptly.

Mr. Edward S. Haws, of 109 Dudley avenue, is confined to his home with an attack of grippe.

Rev. Harry M. Chalfant, of Narberth, addressed the January meeting of the Bryn Mawr League of Women Voters on Monday of this week. His subject was "The Eighteenth Amendment in the Light of the Preamble."

An associate membership in the Choral Society costs $5.00 and entitles the holder to three tickets for each local concert—little enough to pay for real musical entertainment right in the Borough. Send in your subscription to Mr. Robert Mueller, Financial Secretary, immediately, in order to get tickets for the Friday evening concert.

Mr. Orville G. Johnson died very suddenly last Wednesday morning at his residence, The Windsor-Exeter. He was preparing to leave for his office when stricken with a heart attack. During the two years he had resided in Narberth, Mr. Johnson made many friends who feel his loss keenly. The funeral was held Friday at 2:30, from 203 Essex Avenue, interment at Red Bank, N. J.

ORVILLE G. JOHNSON

He was a life-long resident of Philadelphia, having lived most of his years in Germantown, and in business he was the Philadelphia representative of the Lawrence Portland Cement Company for many years. He was in his sixty-third year.

He is survived by his mother, a resident of Bryn Mawr, his widow, Mrs. Anna Cramer Johnson, and William G. Johnson, his son, formerly a resident of Narberth.

Civic Association Works to Beautify Narberth

Attractive Waste Receptacles Are Installed

As the first concrete evidence of the Civic Association movement for a cleaner and more beautiful Narberth, there were placed in the Borough this week four new waste receptacles of a modern and attractive type.

The need of such receptacles has long been felt, and the Civic Association, with the opening of its winter activities, took immediate steps to see that the want was supplied.

The cans were placed in position on Tuesday. They are painted an attractive green, with the name of the Civic Association printed on the sides, and are of the approved swinging cover type. One of these receptacles is placed near the bulletin board on the south side of the station, and the other three on Haverford avenue. One is now located at the corner of Haverford and Essex, one at Forest and the other in the center of the block on the south side of the street.

These positions are in the nature of an experiment, and the locations may be changed if the conditions show that improvements can be made.

Many other plans tending to make our Borough more attractive are now under way. Perhaps the most important of these is in regard to the approaches to the town, on which subject an article was published in these columns in the issue of December 30th.

The first improvement in this respect will be made by the Pennsylvania Railroad. The Narberth Civic Association took the matter up with their officials, with the result that the railroad has agreed to plant a row of trees on each side of the tracks. These trees will be placed on the approach from the city, and will serve to shut off to some extent the less attractive features of the business district backing on to the tracks. The railroad has announced that the planting will be done in the early spring, as soon as weather conditions permit.

The placing of these trees will make an immediate improvement in the approach to the Borough, and will pave the way for a number of other movements now under way to make more attractive our front entrance.

The Board of Directors of the Association, which met this week, has under consideration a number of other plans of the greatest interest to the people of the community. These projects will be brought forth in the columns of Our Town as they are developed. Much enthusiasm is manifest in the work now under way, and it is evident that an important forward movement will be the result of the co-operation of all the residents.

NARBERTH LEGION AUXILIARY REPRESENTED AT CONFERENCE

Narberth Unit No. 356, American Legion Auxiliary, was represented at the Eastern Pennsylvania Mid-Winter District Conference at Wilkes-Barre Tuesday, December 23rd, by Mrs. Regina Coccia.

The conference was addressed by Mrs. Frederick P. Moore, President Department of Pennsylvania, and other Department officers. A resume of the recent accomplishments of the Auxiliary was presented, together with a discussion of the great constructive program to be completed during the current year. Mrs. Moore emphasized the importance of a still greater co-operation between Legion Posts and their Auxiliary units. As concrete proof of the greater possibilities in these respects, the State records show that the most successful and energetic Posts are those wherein such co-operation has been developed to the highest degree.

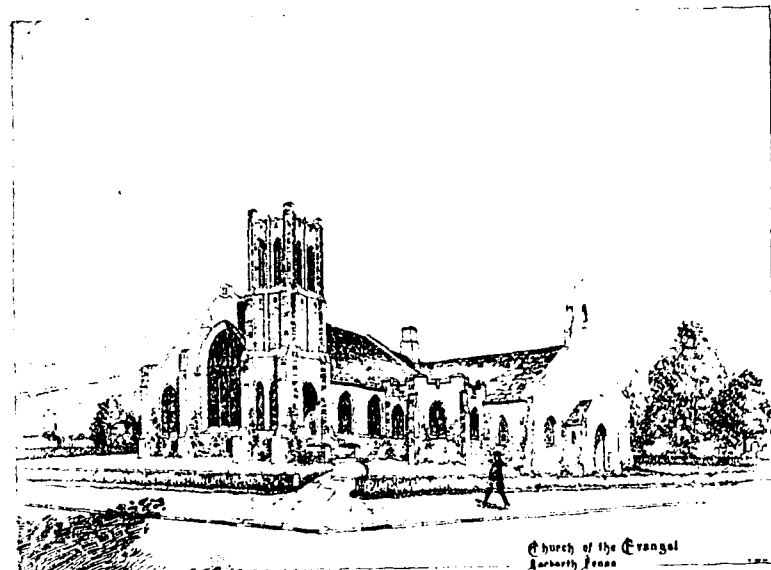

MID-WINTER TENNIS DANCE

In spite of the bad weather last Saturday evening the Mid-Winter Tennis Dance was well attended. The saxophone seemed to have imbued a little of the fog on the way out, but otherwise the music was enjoyable and everybody had a jolly time. The idea of having only two emcees to each dance was tried, and met with great favor.

February 14th is set for the next dance, and the committee hopes all members will hold that date open and come.

State Educator At Parents' Meeting

Home and School Association Hears Dr. Lewis

Before a pitifully small, but highly interested, audience of about 40 Narberthites Dr. Lewis, Deputy General Director of the State Board of Education, spoke what he called his "swang song" in the School Auditorium last Thursday evening. He did not explain any further. His statement was taken to mean that he might seek other service in the early future.

The President of the Home and School Association stated that Mr. McCarter had personally informed him very courteously that he would not be able to be present, as he had an important engagement. No other member of the local School Board was present. It had been hoped that the Board would report as to what progress had been made toward consolidating the Narberth and Lower Merion High Schools, and the Board had been invited to do so. The Narberth Board had a meeting with representatives of the Lower Merion School Board, it is said, last November, and Dr. Lewis stated that he had recently been called in consultation with the Narberth Board as to the wisdom of consolidation. It is the hope of very many Narberth people that the School Board will soon take the public into its confidence, whether or not it uses the Home or School Association as the medium for so doing.

The Rev. Harry M. Chalfant, an old friend, introduced Dr. Lewis, who gave a lucid, impressive outline of the purpose of a High School education as the best thought of modern educators views it. Such an education should go far beyond the mere fitting of the student for making the best use of his own talents, and should also train him to think wisely in the matter of solving the great political, social and moral problems as he faces them.

Our High School pupils increased from 200,000 in 1890 to 1,645,000 in 1918, the last year of the World War. Buildings can hardly be built fast enough to accommodate them now. No age is so responsive to idealism. Pennsylvania's program requires that these children should pursue those subjects which will tend to improve their citizenship, such as English (for at least three and a half years), political and social studies, such as history, civics, economics, health, science, mathematics, and so on. After the student takes these as nine-sixteenths of his work, then he or she should be given as wide an opportunity as possible to take what will help in pursuing a chosen profession or calling, among other things advanced mathematics and science sufficient for preparation for entering college. Boys should have handwork, in wood and with machinery, and girls should be treated liberally with opportunities for studying the domestic arts, not merely cooking and sewing, but such subjects as home budgets, rents, and the like. Boys and girls should be given opportunities to prepare for commercial life, even some study of architecture among the "applied arts."

Dr. Lewis spent much time in answering questions.

The Baptist Church of the Evangel will shortly begin work on an extensive improvement to the present plant on the corner of Narberth and Elmwood avenues. The addition will consist of a beautiful auditorium and tower adjoining the present building on the Narberth avenue side, and a three story addition in the rear and on the other side especially arranged according to best modern practices to fit the needs of the flourishing Sunday School. Church design has progressed wonderfully in the last few years and the new building of the Baptists will embody all the best features of the latest developments in this science.

The Sunday School division will be organized upon the departmental basis in line with the modern tendency in educational buildings, embodying separate units, consisting of permanent assembly rooms connected with an appropriate number of permanent class rooms for each department. These units will consist of the Beginners' Primary, Intermediate, Junior, Senior and Adult Departments.

In addition to the new auditorium and the Sunday School building the complete plant will provide a spacious social room with a large and completely equipped kitchen, separate club rooms for boys' and girls' organizations, a choir room, pastor's study, and an office

HON. JAMES B. SHEEHAN ADDRESSES LEGION

Due to the fact that he was unexpectedly called out of town on business of the Fair, Colonel D'Olier was unable to keep his engagement to speak to the local Legion Post. It was indeed fortunate that they were able to secure Mr. Sheehan in his place.

Mr. Sheehan spoke on the subject of organization as applied to any order existing, and more particularly to the Legion. He said that there was no adequate co-ordination of the several posts and suggested that all the posts of the Philadelphia area should meet in a common hall and under one commander. Mr. Sheehan realizes the power of the humorous anecdote to drive home a point in an argument and had the audience convulsed with his Irish stories.

Many of the members of the Tennis Association were present in response to the invitation of Commander Fretz, as well as many of the Borough officials.

CARD PARTY

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 356 will give a card party at the Y. M. C. A. Building, Thursday evening, February 1st, at 8 o'clock.

Tables will be arranged for a variety of games to suit the inclinations of player groups. The proceeds of this party will go to the Memorial Building Fund. Tickets, including refreshment, seventy-five cents each, and now procurable from Mrs. Joseph Miller, chairman, Entertainment Committee, 426 Haverford Ave. Phone Narberth 1263 W.

Miss Ruth S. Smith gave a party at her home, 436 Brookhurst avenue, Saturday night, January 20. Twenty-one guests were present.

Narberth has blossomed forth with a brand new set of waste receptacles. The purpose of such contrivances, as most of us know, is to receive the odds and ends of litter which too often find their way into the gutters and shrubbery.

In the past, when efforts have been made to prevent the spread of miscellaneous junk through the highways, the plea has been made that the community lacked adequate places for the deposit of such stuff.

That is no longer the case. The discarded cigarette box, tobacco can, chewing gum wrapper, apple core, newspaper, envelope—make out your own list—can now be hidden from the eyes of Narberthites and visitors.

The children, particularly, should be taught to use the receptacles provided for small waste. They are our future commuters and shoppers, and in a few years will be responsible for their share in keeping the town attractive. There is little hardship in using these receptacles, for the covers swing back and forth in a most engaging manner. Even adults may be able to compensate for the half dozen extra steps by the pleasure of depositing the piece of paper in such an interesting mechanical contrivance.

But far be it from the editorial staff to wax facetious—that is the province of the "Tower." It is the duty of Our Town, as it is the duty of every citizen, to do his best to make Narberth the Main Line's most attractive town. The use of these new receptacles is one means. Get the habit.

ON IMPORTANT COMMITTEES

Senator Fletcher W. Stites, Montgomery County Senator from Narberth, was well favored in that he was placed on these important committees in the State Senate: Appropriations, Judiciary General, Judiciary Special, Law and Order and Public Roads and Highways.

Mr. Stites went into action early in his term, and Monday introduced a bill creating a separate State Motor Vehicle Department, and making provision for an examination of all applicants for a motor license.

The effort to have Pennsylvania fall in line with New Jersey and Maryland in ascertaining the proficiency of its drivers before licensing them has been forecast, but other provisions of the bill would bring about drastic changes in the machinery of administering the law.

At present motor vehicle matters are chiefly in the hands of the Registrar of Motor Vehicles, Benjamin G. Eynon, coming under the Highway Commissioner. The Stites bill would elevate the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles to equal rank with the Highway Commissioner, at a salary of $10,000, at the same time retaining the office of Registrar, at $5,000, but transferring it to the new department.

The bill makes provision for not more than 150 inspectors, working under a chief inspector, charged with examining applicants for operators' licenses. A fee of $3 would be charged for such licenses separately from the car license.

With regard to intoxicated drivers,

Talks About Narberth

(Conducted by the Civic Association)

WHY DO YOU LIVE IN NARBERTH?

It is because there is no community that has better train service to the city? Is it because in Narberth, dollar for dollar, you get better value in your house and lot? Is it because you want to be near your friends? Is it because of Narberth's beautiful old shade trees? Is it because you want to work out the kinks in a garden patch or on the tennis courts? Is it because you want a good environment for your children? Is it because of the convenience of good stores for your daily necessity—good streets, good water, good schools? Yes, really all of these good reasons and many more. Narberth's a real home town. Let's tell each other and everyone else why we live here—it will do us all good to tell of this splendid town of ours.

THE TOWER OF BABBLE

By Collum Righter

MY! WHAT A DAINTY WELSH RAREBIT!

Dear He, She or It:

I have perused with interest your paragraph in the "Tower of Babble" column, same being with reference to my previous letter regarding lack of patronage in certain Narberth establishments.

Presume by your remarks that since my letter you have made a personal inspection. Gosh! I never knew the half, according to your article. However, if you feel a gas mask is really necessary I will be pleased to furnish you with one, presume you will furnish the gas to operate it. By the way, why not adopt Coue's method, "Day by day in every way we grow better and better?" But don't say it with flowers. Say it with Soap!

Yours to a red ash,

JAS. W. DARVILLE.

We'll have it known right at the start that if our dear friend Taffy by means of his "Presumed" and "Gosh-ed" but otherwise perfectly mellifluous love note, intended to draw us into combat, he is the recipient of an additional think. Being a lineal descendant of a dweller in the Welsh Barony, which later came to be called Merioneth, we would consider it nothing short of an unpardonable breach of etiquette d'ancetres or cynically speaking, a dillalmy llyshydawmfe were we to forget ourself to the extent of crossing jack-knives with a countryman of the blood. His proffer of the conventional gas mask is, however, most considerate. And so timely withal. Our present one is high worn out owing to the strain to which its charcoal chambers is subjected in protecting us from the fumes arising out of certain letters sent the Column. The threat of this impending gift, coming 'pon the heels of the Christmas apples and pumpkin, sets us to contemplating whether or not there is a well defined scheme afoot to bury us with kindness.

With much genial warmth and cordiality we express the hope that our dear devoted Darville will refrain from the use of that terribly plebeian expletive, "Gosh," in any further polite communications he may have occasion to send. The word is hardly to be expected to drip from the pen of a man whose trousers (to all appearances) measure thirty-seven inches on the inside leg seam. And finally may we most respectfully suggest that he lay off "Presume" and instead draw upon the Store of Synonymity to it contained in such simple orthographic gems as Infer, for instance, or Suppose, Think or Believe, for example. Still, he may be A. S. Hutchinson in disguise. You never can tell. If so, his limitless literary license would safely admit of his every fifth word being a "presume," if he had a mind to put it that way. Though somehow or other, even taking into consideration that his letter was so "wonderful" and "marvelous" and "enthraling," we doubt very much his being Mr. Hutchinson.

All of which brings "This Freedom" before the curtain amid the ear-splitting clatter of enthusiastic hand-clapping and many thunderous rounds of applause. One evening last week we finished the book with a sigh at two A. M. There is much to be said both for as well as against it. Had we sufficient nerve and independence to set down our reactions for it, we would in all probability be driven from home by our wife to roam abroad in rage and seek food and sustenance in the depths of Town swill pails. Whereas our reasons for being against it would, while perfectly sound, hardly coincide with those held by the be-earringed Juno whose tea is ever so delicious and whose cake it is invariably impossible to describe in cold words. Consequently, for the first time in our life we shall remain mum as a bucket of unslacked Knickerbocker lime and merely advise those interested to have the Library ladies put their names on the waiting list.

Our inexpressible Borough still boasts (so we hear) the presence of sundry Civil War Veterans who have mistaken Hon. P. M. Patten's Mail Carriers for Confederate Infantrymen and threaten to shoot 'em on sight. Something should be done at once. It is hard enough work for our Lettermen to lug their sacks of mail in peace, let alone doing it under the handicap of the suffering brought about by having a load of buckshot in the backs of their laps. We herewith notify Burgher Butler and the Rt. Hon. B. Council that this constitutes another valid reason why ahinges should not be abolished.

Ever since the eighteenth of January have we been wondering whether Mr. Walter Fox has seen anything of a tangible nature in connection with the fifty-dollars-worth-of-men's-shirts which Mrs. Walter Fox won, appropriated and otherwise walked off with at the annual dinner of the Poor Richard Club.

While on the subject of Dinners we were quite excited at what the near-by papers said regarding the non-tolerance of intoxicants at the Fifteenth Annual Feed to be administered the Philadelphia-Nash Real Estate Board at the Bellevue-Stratford tonight. If the report be true and worth earnest belief, we predict the most insistent song of the evening will be, "How Dry I Am!" And right on top of it all our horrified eyes glimpse the advertisement of the local pioneer Hardware Merchant, which states boldly that he is dispensing "pure" alcohol, 75 cents per gallon. Oh Tempora! Oh Mores! Page the police—the Fire Department—the Saivie Association—the Thimble Club—the Home and School—the Republicans—their opponents—the School Board—the two people who've a good word to say for 'em—the Library—Doctor Howard—everything—everybody! Hold us back! We're goin' to run amuck! Halp! Halp! We're goin' to commit parsimony!

One of our contemporaries instructs us to advise Grace that the new Franklin one-cent stamps are positively not air-cooled. There are several in the ranks of Column readers who bear that name. It is to be prayed each and every one of them will take this information to heart and profit by it.

Ha-ha-ha! We're nearly dead from laughing. Oh, mercy! ha-ha-ha-ha! Wait a minute 'til we get, he-he-he, our breath! Ho-ho-ho! Did you hear about it? Oh stop, stop now, stop! Ha-ha-ha! Our ribs are cracking! He-he-he! Those new Civic Association, haw-haw-haw, waste-paper boxes, you know. Oh for goodness sake have a little mercy on us, ha-ha-ha, can't you! Well, they say, wow-wow-wow, Citizen Edward Muschamp, haw-haw-haw, he-he, tried to whee-ha-ha, mail a letter in one of 'em. Woomph!

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Babson says—"During the last period money has been spent for motor cars; in the next period it will buy country homes."

This office has several unusually good opportunities in Narberth homes at attractive prices. The following are a few examples.

Hollow tile residence, central hall plan, large living room with stone fireplace, spacious bedrooms, hardwood floors, hot water heat, excellent condition, 2 car heated garage. Lot 50x200 feet. Owner has moved to Massachusetts. Price, $15,500.

South side—detached residence containing all improvements, excellent condition, large rooms, 90-foot front lot. This property is well worth considering. Owner moving to New York.

Ten new homes nearing completion, including all types and sizes. Prices range from $11,500 to $21,000.

Good building lots are mighty scarce. We know of a few, well located, near station, restricted location.

Apartment, second floor, good location, $65.00 per month. Yearly lease.

CITIZENS' ASSOCIATION

Resolution Passed On Township Tax Boost

The regular monthly meeting of the Main Line Citizens' Association was held at the office in the Memorial Building, Bryn Mawr, on January 22nd, 1923. Representatives from the Township Commissioners, Mr. Kerbaugh, President, Major Evans and Mr. Gray, were present. The regular business of the Association was suspended for a few minutes while Major Evans explained the increase in the Township tax rate of 4½ mills, after which the following resolution was unanimously adopted by the Board of Directors:

WHEREAS the Commissioners of Lower Merion Township have petitioned the Court of Quarter Sessions of Montgomery County to order a rate of 4½ mills additional to be levied for Township purposes for the fiscal year 1923 making a rate for Township purposes of 14½ mills in all.

AND WHEREAS this Association is advised that action by the Court would be for the one year only,

AND WHEREAS the Board of Commissioners have stated their intention to use the additional revenue for Highway purposes,

AND WHEREAS in the opinion of the Board of Directors of this Association the increase of 4½ mills is for the best interests of the Township; this increase representing a 19% increase in the total rate for County, School and Township purposes and not 45%, as it has been stated,

RESOLVED that the Association record itself as favoring the increase and that a certified copy of this resolution be given to the President of the Board of Commissioners for presentation to the Court.

RECOMMENDED BOOKS.

The Library Issues Its Printed List of the Season's Best Books.

"List of Recommended Books for Winter Reading" is the title of the third printed bulletin which the Community Library has issued in its brief career. This list is the result of a serious examination of the season's literary output, and while it does not assume to include all of the best books of the year, it does present a varied list of worthwhile books, all of which are available on the Community Library's shelves.

Such books as "Babbalanza" and "This Freedom," which have already been widely advertised and read are not included, because it was felt that they required no further recommendation. They have, in fact, already had their day.

This list of recommended books has been prepared like a menu, and all of the books on it should be read by those people who wish to obtain the full benefit of it. It will be found that the list of books includes a good proportion of entertainment, mental stimulus, and information, because each book has been chosen for its own definite contribution to the literature and current opinion of this winter season. Copies of the list are available for free distribution at the Library on Tuesday and Friday afternoons and Friday evenings, or will be mailed without charge to any one who will send a stamped and addressed envelope to the Librarian. The list is as follows:

Fiction.

"The Bright Shawl," Joseph Hergesheimer.
 "Captain Blood," Rafael Sabatini.
 "The Cathedral," Hugh Walpole.
 "Command," William McFee.
 "Don Rodriguez," Lord Dunsany.
 "Martin Pippin in the Apple Orchard," Eleanor Parjeon.
 "Old Crow," Alice Brown.
 "Peregrine's Progress," Jeffery Farnol.
 "The Return," Walter de la Mare.
 "Where the Blue Begins," Christopher Morley.

Poetry.

"Last Poems," A. E. Housman.
 "Shoes of the Wind," Hilda Conkling.
 Drama.
 "Dear Brutus," James M. Barrie.
 "Second Plays," A. A. Milne.

Biography.

"Life and Letters of Walter H. Page," Burton J. Hendrick.

Travel.

"Old Morocco and the Forbidden Atlas," C. E. Andrews.
 "Nights and Days on the Gypsy Trail," Irving Brown.
 "What I Saw in America," G. K. Chesterton.

Essays.

NARBERTH CLUB TROUNCES PAOLI MEN'S CLUB, 41-11

The local club defeated another Main Line rival last Saturday when they snowed under the Paoli Men's Club with a 41-11 score. The outcome was never in doubt after the first toss up, when a beautiful pass from Jenkins to Powell scored the first two points for the local team. The local team displayed a patched line-up, when John Dickie injured his shoulder last week, and was unable to put on a uniform.

Lardie Davis was unable to get into action, but Big "Epp" Yowell played a marvelous game at centre, and contributed seven field goals in the course of the game. The entire Narberth team injected pep into their playing, and the passing of the team was the best that has been displayed all season.

The Paoli Club were in the game trying at all times, and their team play was somewhat affected when their big center man was forced out of action with a sprained shoulder. The first half was very fast, with Narberth having the edge by their ability to cage the ball, and when the half ended, the locals were on the long end of a 20-4 score.

The Reserve team lost a hard fought game to the West Phila. A. C. by the score of 24-15. The Narberth team played a good game, but were not so fortunate with their shots as their opponents.

Tonight a return game will be played between the South Phila. Hebrew Reserve and the Narberth first team. This same club, playing under the name of Ajce, trimmed our second team a few weeks ago, and a fast game is expected.

ing questions. His first answer was that he believed the Narberth School Board is exceedingly anxious to do the very best for the Narberth children. He said he found the Narberth Board a very attentive and receptive body, and was impressed that its members were thoroughly open-minded.

"If you lived here, would you favor consolidation?"

"Please do not ask me for a categorical yes or no answer to that question. You have heard my views as to what a High School should be; kindly draw your own conclusions."

Inasmuch as Narberth has large spaces for outgrowth and development, he would not say it might not build up in the future a very excellent and worthy High School. When told that he was mistaken about this, that Narberth, like a penny in the center of a big cakepan, was surrounded by Lower Merion township, and greatly limited in its possible expansion, he said, "Well, that materially alters the case. I understood differently."

"Another thing," Dr. Lewis volunteered; "you will certainly sooner or later suffer the killing of some child if your children have to walk up Montgomery Pike to the school at Ardmore."

"But the Lower Merion authorities will provide busses," he was told.

"I understand not," he answered. "I believe they have informed your School Board they cannot do this."

He said the large High Schools had three classifications in each grade, of students of varying abilities, so that the students of slower mental processes would not be a drag on the quick-witted pupils, and make the latter lazy.

The penalty for which is, that 'the dummies' have the finger of scorn pointed at them by 'the brilliants,' was suggested.

"True," he replied; "you will notice I classified the three groups as 'X, Y, Z.' We must try to avoid odious comparisons."

Section 1406 of the Code, he said, made it legally possible for one High School to make a long term contract with another wishing to consolidate with it.

Asked what it would cost to give a High School of 100 pupils equal advantages with such high schools as Germantown or Lower Merion, he said: "It would cost more than $200 per pupil a year—perhaps not quite $300.00. It would be very heavy."

"If it is found feasible to effect consolidation with Lower Merion, on what basis should it be done? What grades and how many should go up to Ardmore?" Dr. Lewis was asked.

His answer was lost, as he was whisked out of the room about 10 o'clock to catch a train for the city. All that could be heard, as he faded away with an escort to a waiting auto, was, "That is a very important question!"

The next meeting of the Association will be held in the Auditorium probably the third Thursday in February. If parents are interested in these vital school problems they ought to attend in larger numbers.

and committee room, as well as rest rooms for women. Without doubt the new Church will be one of the most completely equipped and best arranged plants in the vicinity of Philadelphia, if not in a very much wider area, and will be a distinct asset to Narberth.

The members and congregation are exerting themselves to the utmost to bring the hopes of many years to a speedy fulfillment, and have already under consideration plans for a forward looking Church program that will utilize the facilities of the new building throughout the week as well as on Sundays and eclipse anything heretofore possible in the way of service to the religious life of the community.

Rev. Avery S. Demmy, who has been the pastor of the Baptist Church of the Evangel for nearly six years, is to be congratulated upon the progress made by the Church under his leadership.

It is hoped that the efforts of the Baptists will encourage other congregations who are considering building programs. Beautiful churches are a decided attraction for every community, and the ideals fostered by their activities make our community a better place in which to live.

That the Baptist Church is beautifully designed and attractively arranged, is amply demonstrated by the accompanying illustrations of the tentative plans. The construction will be stone to match the present ivy covered building.
